The Principles of AyurVeda : Simple Way to Live Blissful Life

At Green AyurVeda Spa, as well as checking your basic health requirements before therapy our qualified AyurVedic doctor will interview you to determine your predominant Dosha before recommending appropriate therapies.

AyurVeda is an ancient Indian holistic system of healing that works on the principle that, with a balanced lifestyle, human beings' life expectancy should be prolonged. AyurVeda is based on the principle that we are all part of nature; cosmic energy is within us and all around us. Each one of us has a unique pattern of energy which in turn helps develop our own unique emotional, physical and mental qualities. Our individual cosmic energy quotient remains the same throughout our life.

AyurVeda recognises that our cosmic energy consists of three component energy 'Doshas'; Vata, Pitta and Kapha. Each person has a unique pattern featuring different levels of the three Doshas; one primary and the other two less prominent. Before using AyurVedic remedies it is important to find out your primary or dominant Dosha. Our basic health relies on our ability to keep our Vata, Pitta and Kapha levels in harmonic balance.

The Doshas

The five great elements (Space, Air, Fire, Water and Earth) combine in pairs to form the three dynamic forces, or 'Doshas' ('that which changes'). The three 'Doshas', are as follows

- ❖ Vata (Air + Space) - is the Energy associated with movement. Main site large Intestine
- ❖ Pitta (Fire + Water) - is the Energy associated with digestion and metabolism. Main site Navel
- ❖ Kapha (Water + Earth) - is the Energy associated with the body's structure. Main site Chest

All bodily processes are believed to be governed by a balance of the three Doshas. Whichever Dosha or Doshas appear to dominate a person's behaviour and physique are called that persons 'constitution type' and each constitution type has particular strengths and susceptibilities. The three Doshas are constantly moving in dynamic balance; when one falls ill, it is because the natural balance of these elements in the body have become disturbed. The ability to affect the Doshas is the underlying basis for AyurVedic practices and therapies. Balanced Tri-Dosha means a healthy person.
